DID NOT BRING CLEVELAND. DON DICKINSON COMES BACK FROM

THE EAST ALONE. Mr. Grace's Committee May Decide To-day

What Course to Take About Local Nom-institute - Johnny Davesport and Dave Martin Locking After Naturalization. Ex-Postmaster-General Donald M. Dickinsen does not now know when Mr. Cleveland will make his second visit to town before he leaves Buzzard's Bay for the winter. When Mr. Dickinson left town on Monday afternoon for the East it was with the expectation that Mr. Cleveland would be at the Victoria Hotel to-day. It is now thought that Mr. Cleveland will defer his visit until some time next week and that then Gen. Stevenson will be in town also. That will be a good time, it was said yesterday, to hand out the letters of acceptance for publication.

Mr. Dickinson returned to town yesterday He was delighted with Senator Hill's speech He had read it in Boston with the greatest gratification.

Mr. Dickinson returned in time to attend the first meeting of the Campaign Committee held in some time. He presided, and with him wore Mr. Harrity, Licut.-Gov. Sheehan, Mr. Whitney, Mr. Smalley, Mr. Quincy, and Treasurer Robert B. Roosevelt. One thing was manifest at this meeting, the wealthy Democrats are not coming forward as rapidly as had been expected. One check for $5,000 was received from a prominent dry goods merchant, but beyond that the amounts recoived are almost insignificant, and in the aggregate wholly inadequate for the purposes of the campaign. After finances the talk turned upon the proposed meeting of ex-Mayor Grace's Anti-State Committee, to be held this evening at the headquarters in East Fourteenth street. It was made known that neither Mr. Cleveland, Mr. Whitney, nor any of the gentlemen in charge of the national campaign wishes Mr. Grace to run a third candidate for Mayor in New York county this fall. Mr. Whit-

Mayor in New York county this fall. Mr. Whitney is especially emphatic, and Mr. Cloveland, after frequent consultations, is in full accord with Mr. Whitney. Mr. Grace, it was said, is inclined to respect the wishes of Mr. Cleveland, Mr. Whitney, and the others in charge of the national campaign.

Mr. Cleveland in his letter to ex-Secretary Fairchild, which the ex-Secretary was asked to pass around," expressed his appreciation of the services of Mr. Grace and of the antismap movement. Those in charge of Mr. Cleveland's campaign believe, though, that the electoral ticket can be served best by running only one candidate for Mayor against the Republicans.

It was not known by the members of the publicans. It was not known by the members of the

At was not known by the members of the Campaign Chamittee yesterday just what course it. Grace and his friends would adopt that the wishes of Mr. Cleveland and his friends would be regarded.

After discussing these matters at headquarters the Campaign Committee went in a body that the connecticut, and Michigan was discussed. Ex-Gov. AT GRAY GABLES.

Ex-Gov. Gray of Indiana Drops In for Chut with Mr. Cleveland.

BUZZARD's Bay, Sept. 21 .- The curiosity of the persons who were at the railway station at noon to-day was aroused when Grove Cleveland's carriage drove up and the ex-President stepped out to wait for the incom-ing Boston train. Mr. Cleveland has been too ing Boaton train. Mr. Cleveland has been too busy of late to undertake the long drive over a sandy road from Gray Gables to the station, except when he expects guests of unusual importance. When the train rolled in to-day Mr. Cleveland quickly singled out a tail, ediedly gentleman with gray whiskers and a high hat. The mutual greetings were warm. The stranger was ex-Gov. Fussy Gray of Indiana. Mr. Cleveland escorted him to the carriage, and the two drove off down the country road, despiy engaged in conversation.

The ex-Governor spent several hours at Gray Gables in consultation with Mr. Cleveland, and returned this evening to Boston.

ENTHUSIASM IN HIS WAKE.

Mr. Stevenson Doing Troman's Duty Among Southern Democrats.

FATETTEVILLE, N. C., Sept. 21.-The Hon. A. E. Stevenson addressed a large gathering of people here to-day. Despite lowering skies and occasional showers, every Democrat in Fayetteville came out to welcome the Demoeratic candidate for Vice-President. The distinguished visitor and his party were met outside the city by the Reception Committee and a cavalcade of 200 citizens of Fayetteville and the adjoining towns.

The speaking was from a platform in front of the old Parks House. Mr. Stevenson's speech was confined to a brief discussion of the tariff and the Force bill. Upon the latter topic he spoke with great earnestness, and his utterances aroused the audience to enthusiasm. He recalled some of the leading inci-utterances aroused the audience to enthusiasm. He recalled some of the leading incidents of carpet-bag rule in the reconstruction period, such as the piling up of enormous State debts in the South, the misappropriation of the educational fund in North Carolina, and the plundering of South Carolina.

He called attention to the provisions of the Force bill, and spoke of the narrow escape it had from passage in the Fifty-first Congress. The latter fact and the utterances of Republicau leaders and orators in the North made it manifest that the Force bill was not a dead issue, as had been claimed, but a living, vital issue, especially to the people of the South, at whom it was almed. Its passage would mean a return to the worst and most humiliating features of old carpet-bag rule, and he implored his heavers if they desired to see a continuance of the era of peace and prosperity in the South to stand by the grand old Democratio party, which had given them the blessings they enjoyed. In such contest, he said, there was no room for a third party.

After the meeting Mr. Slevenson held a brief informal reception at the Lafayette Hotel. He and his party left this afternoon for Wilmington, attended by a reception committee composed of young business men of that city and headed by the Mayor.

MR. GRADY AT LYNCHBURG.

The Tammany Orator Points Out the Con sequences of Republican Victory.

LYNCHBURG, Sept. 21.-An immense gatherng of enthusiastic Democrats greeted the Hon. Thomas F. Grady, the eloquent New Yorker, at Friend's warehouse last night and all were more than repaid by the masterly discourse which he delivered. Mr. Grady profaced his remarks with the assurance that the and Stevenson. He then took up the Force bill and discussed its provisions with master ly skill. The consequences of its enforce ly skill. The consequences of its enforcement in the Southern States were depicted in burning words, and the audience was spell-bound under the influence of his logic.

He recalled the scenes of carpet-bag rule, when 2,000 negro justices of the peace, not one of whom could read or write, dispensed alleged justices in South Carolina, and warned his hearers that a repetition of the wrongs of that period would inevitably follow Republican success in November. Continuing, Grady said that if the Third party is true to its allegiance in this contest its leaders will have the satisfaction of knowing that they have forged the manacles for their own wrists, and that the success of the Force bill will sound the death knell of American liberty.

After speaking for about two hours, touching upon all the issues of the day, he closed with a powerful tribute to Cleveland.

STATE FARMERS' ALLIANCE.

The Coal Barons Compared to the Robber Barons of Olden Times.

ROCHESTER, Sept. 21.-At the concluding session of the New York State Council of Farmers' Alliance this morning the following delegates were chosen to attend the National Convention in November, either in Georgia of California: E. F. Dibble of Honeove Falls and F. H. Purdy of Bluff Point, Yates county. The membership of the State was reported as 15,- membership of the State was reported as 15,-000. Among the resolutions adopted was the following.

Resolved, That the strike made by the consolidated coatrailroads against society by arbitrarily advancing the price of coal $1$ a ton to the consumer, while reducing the coat of production at the time by reducing the price of labor, demonstrates a power of taxation stronger than the Government itself, more exacting than the robber barons of olden times, and more dangerous to a free republic than standing armiss over-awards to the price of coal $1$ per ton and time. JUDGE WERTS WILL ACCEPT.

He Will Receive the Notification Commit-

Judge Werts said yesterday that on Monday next he will announce his decision as to his acceptance or declination of the Democratic nomination for Governor of New Jersey. He sent word to Senator Barrett of Essex county, Chairman of the Notification Committee, that he would receive the committee at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at his home in Crescent avenue, Jersey City.

What the decision will be the Judge declined to say, but a gentleman in the front rank of the Democratic State leaders, and who possesses Judge Werte's confidence, assured a Sux reporter that he will accept the nomination. The nominee has had conferences with the leaders of both wings of the party, and both sides have urged him so strongly to stand that he has decided to set aside his personal preference in the matter and yield to the demands of his party. Monroe County Democratic Candidate for Dist let Attorney, ROCHESTER, Sept. 21. - The Democratic County Committee this afternoon nominated George P. Decker as a candidate for District Attorney. In place of John D. Coffey, who de clined to accept the nomination tendered him by the County Convention last week. Mr Decker is 31 years old, and is one of the lead-Decker is 31 years old, and is one of the leading Democratic candidate for Assembly in the Third district of Menroe county, which gave therefore 150 majority. Mr. Docker's Republican opponent was E. A. Loder. The result was in doubt, but Mr. Loder was declared elected by the Board of Supervisors by a plurality of six votes over Decker. Goy, Hill appointed Mr. Decker as manager of the State Industrial Schoolin 1831, and Goy. Flower reappointed him hast winter.

Another Republican Out for Cleveland. NEWBURGH, Sept. 21.-Mahlon Groov, for two years Supervisor of the town of Neversink. sullivan county, and heretofore a stanch Re publican, is out for the Democratic ticket. He

"I have become thoroughly convinced that it is my duty as a citizen who desires the greatest good of the majority to vote for greatest good of the majority to vote for Grover Cleveland, and to use my best endeavers to persuade others to do the same. I believe that the present tariff, which is the real issue between the parties, puts unjust burdens upon the farmer and the laborer, robbing them for the benefit of millionaires and corporations. I am determined to be just as active for Grover Cleveland as I was for Harrison four years ago. I believe that Cleveland's election will be for the best interests of the masses."

THE STATE CONVENTION ACCEPTS HIS PLATFORM AND TICKET.

The Conservatives Objected to the Platform, and Embodied Their Views in a Minority Report-Took Defeat Calmly. COLUMBIA, Sept. 21.-Gov. Tillman and his ticket have been nominated, and the State Democratic Convention has adjourned with but little of the excitement that was anticipated. The proceedings were cut and dried in the Tillmanite caucus. The conservatives stood no show whatever in the Convention. and the 256 followers of Gov. Tillman simply took the bit between their teeth and galloped through.

During the morning there was a squabble among the Tillmanites in caucus as to whether they should nominate D. A. Townsend or W. C. Benet for Attorney-General. The caucus took a recess to allow the Convention to assemble, but, after being in the Convention less than two hours, they took a recess and went back to the caucus.

This was repeated, and at 5 o'clock this afternoon the Tillmanites decided they would nominate Townsend. The Convention then reassembled, and Gov. Tillman and the present State officers were renominated. A hot fight occurred over the adoption of a platform.

The minority of the Committee on Resolutions on behalf of the conservative element submitted a report strongly endorsing the National Democratic platform adopted at Chicago. This was rejected by the Tilimanite

Autonal Democratic platform adopted at Chicago. This was rejected by the Tillmanite majority by an ovorwhelming vote. The following was then adopted as the platform of the South Carolina Democracy:

We, the representatives of the Democratic party of South Carolina in Convention assembled, dereafirm our allegiance to the principles of the party, as formulated by Jellerson exemplified and illustrated by his successors in leadership, and endorsed by our people in the recent primary election; and we pledge our lobal support to the nominees of the National Democracy, Cleveland and Stevenson.

We denounce as unpatriotic and infamous the attempts which have been made to injure the credit and honor of the State beth at home and abroad.

The people of South Carolina, conscious of their additional meetity, are determined that every just a stempts which have been made to injure the credit and promptity discharged, we bodily prochimothal under this one subject there is no difference or division of sentiment among the sons of the States. The bonded debt of the State is small, Her resources are large and ample. In her phospate deposits alone the State is rich, and since the litigation in regard thereto has been adjusted, the receipts from phosphate royalty for the past two months is nearly sufficient to meet the interest on the debt and eventually to pay the debt tiself. We earsestly recommend to the Legislature to set apart by law any excess of phosphate royalty, after paying amount interest in the State istel, as a sinking frunction be placed at interest and saccedly kept and used for the purpose of paying the principal on the State debt.

A country delegate spoke for the Tillmanite platform, and asked the delegates whether the purpose of paying the principal on the State debt.

A country delegate spoke for the Tillmanite platform, and asked the delegates whether they proposed to say "Me. too." to whitever the national Democratic platform said. He said the city chaps had been dictating long enough, but the farmers and laborors were beginning to think and act for chemselves.

Col. Join C. Haskell urged the convention not to defy the National Democratic platform that was opening the way to justifying independentism. "We must bow to the national platform or we are Independents," said he.

Col. Haskell was loudly cheered when he said: "God grant that we may never more hear of independentism in this State."

The following Presidential electors were nominated:
At large, Ernest Gary of Edgefield and J. W. Stokes of Orangeburg; First district, J. C. Tracey, Colleton; Second district, T. S. Williams, Colleton; Second district, J. H. McCalla, Abbeville; Fourth district, Lewis B. Walker, Spartanburg; Fifth district, J. T. Brice, York; Sixth district, I. W. Nettles, Clarenden; Seventh district, Joseph S. Hart, Berkeley, A resolution was adopted to the effect that the electors be required to file written pledges that they will support the nomines of the Democratic party. In accepting the nomination Gov. Tillman made a very conservative speech, over which the Tillmanites went wild. He characterized the feeling in the recent campaign as having been malgranat in its intensity.

One of the most bitter and exciting issues of the campaign has been malgranat in its intensity.

One of the most bitter and exciting issues of the campaign had been whether he should return home with the stigma of being unworthy, or whether he should receive the plaudits of the people. He had nothing harsh to say against the opposition.

He said that for those who fought him he would say, "We extend you the right hand of brotherly love and friendship, in the hope that we may bridge the chasm if it may be done."

EELDEN HAS THE CONVENTION. But Three of His Followers Are Candidates and Not One Will Withdraw. Syracuse, Sept. 21.-The Fifth Judicial District Republican Convention reconvened at 10 A. M. to-day in the Court House in this city. The Committee on Contested Seats reported in favor of seating the Belden delegate from the Second Onondaga district. The committee stood 3 Belden to 2 Hiscock. The report was unanimously adopted, the minority report being withdrawn. Although the Belden men control the Convention, the Congressman is handicapped by the candidacy of three of his own followers—P. B. McLennan, T. E. Hancock, and C. H. Lewis. Not one of them will withdraw, and Belden has refused to bring any pressure to bear upon them.

McLennan, Hancock, and Lewis had twenty-eight of the thirty-six delegates in the Convention between them to-day. It is possible that as the result of their rivairy, an anti-Belden candidate. W. E. Scripture or W. P. Goodelle, may slip in. Three sessions were hold to-day, and fourteen ballots have been taken in all. After the adjournment to-night the Oswego delegation, heretofore solid for Hancock, sent word to Congressman Belden that unless matters were speedily adjusted between Hancock and McLennantheir support was likely to go to Goodelle or Scripture. men control the Convention, the Congressman

A Third of the Driegates Boltrd. New Haven, Sept. 21.-There was a lively struggle in the Congress Convention which convened here to-day to nominate a Demorvatic candidate for the Second district. The Hon. James P. Pigott of this city was chosen, but not until over one-third of the delegates but not until over one-third of the delegates had bolted the Convention. There were three candidates in the field, H. Holton Wood of Ansonia, ex-Senator George H. Morse of Meriden, and Mr. Pigott. The rock on which the Convention split was as to whether the vote should be by viva voca or by secret ballot, the Pigott men arging the former and the Wood men the latter. Mr. Pigott, fearing that some of his delegates night prove false, would not hear of a secret ballot, and rejused to recognize the motions put by the Wood men. Fifty-six Wood delegates finally left the hall and refused to return. The Pigott men then nominated their candidate without opposition.

Long Island City Republicans Name Lucies N. Mauley for Mayor.

The Republicans of Long Island City held their City Convention last night in Koch's Broadway Hall, Astoria. Charles Beckel was chosen Chairman and Charles Smith and William H. Stamford, Secretaries. Thirty-five delegates, representing the five wards in the delegates, representing the five wards in the city, were present, and the hall was crowded with spectators. Lucien N. Manley, Francis J. Onkes, and Charles W. Hallett were placed in memination for Mayor. On the formal ballot Mr. Manley, who is at present Justice of the Peace, was nominated. Resolutions were unanimously passed denouncing Mayor Gleason's administration and declaring that he has degraded every department in the city Government.

IT WAS ANNA SCHALKHAUSSER. Identity of the Girl who Acted So Strangely in Poughkerpsie.

Poughkeepsie, Sept. 21.-The girl whose pe culiar actions attracted so much attention in this city has been identified as Anna Schalk-hausser of 234 Second street, Jersey City. Her first appearance in this city was on Sept 13. On that day a girl with blond hair, haggard face and very poor clothing, and with shoes badly worn, walked into the Nelson House and exclaimed: "Have you got any rooms?" proprietor smiled and answered in the affirm

"I want to stay here until Vassar College opens," she added. "My father will be here this afternoon. Can I have a front room." "Have you any baggage?" asked the proprietor.

'No." was her reply. "My trunk will be here to-morrow. It is on the boat that left Franklin street. New York, to-day." She showed an expressman's receipt dated Hoboken. She said she put her trunk on a boat of the Ramsdell line. Those boats only run to Newburgh. Then she went to dinner and after dinner hired a cab and went to Vassar College.

She roamed about the building, and asked Treasurer Dean if they admitted pupils on s certificate from an Episcopal college in Burlington, N. J. Treasurer Dean sent her to the parlor to see the lady principal. Pretty soon she appeared at the treasurer's office again, and said the lady principal had not come, and and said the lady principal had not come, and that she had to return to the Nelson House to meet her lather. She did not again appear at the Nelson House.

She was next heard from at Mr. Jackson's, in Clinton Cornors, this county. There she gave her name as Anna Schalkhausser, and said her father was interested in the Mercantile Safe Deposit Company, with an office in the Equitable building, New York. She said that she came from 235 Second street, Jersey City.

She left Jackson Corners without paying her bill. At another place she said she was the daughter of a French diplomat, and at another place she left a letter written in French, addressed Father, asking for money.

On Sunday last she appeared at a house in Pleasant Valley and told several stories, and yesterday she went to Armstrong's Hotel at Pleasant Valley and engaged board. This morning she left there and went to the house of the Rev. Mr. Beckwith who brought her to this city and consulted with members of the Women's Christian Association, the result being that Mr. Beckwith took her to the Hudson River Railroad depot, bought a ticket for her to Jersey City, and sent her away on the 1:05 P. They left her a legacy, of which she receives a monthly allowance. She will not get the principal until she is 37 years old. Mrs. Schalkhausser added:

"Anna is full of fun. She is a born actress, and has talked about going on the stage. She has been at school abroad, and can speak French, Italian, and German, and knows something about Latin. She went away with my consent to visit friends at Clinton Cornera. I have sent her money twice, and received receipts. My lawyer will go to Clinton Corners and bring her home. She is full of foolishness, but she is good."

Anna has been a regular attendant at Grace P. E. Church, and has many friends in that congregation.

MR. LYNCH HAS A LIVELY NIGHT. Shot One Customer and Thumped Another in His Bayard Street Saloon.

Edward F. Lynch furnished plenty of excitement for the denizens of the Bowers in the neighborhood of Bayard street last evening. the result of which was that Mr. Lynch and two men with who a he had differences was lodged in the Eldridge street station house. Lynch is the proprietor of the saloon under Flynn's cheap lodging house at 34 Bayard street, just east of the Bowery. At 9% o'clock last evening a row in the saloon was followed by a pistol shot.

Patrolman Sheehan of the Eldridge street station, on post, rushed into the saloon and arrested Lynch, who had fired the shot, and sent out an ambulance call, for one of Lynch's customers had been shot in the head. The victim was a young man, who gave his name as John Clyde. His wound, which was dressed by an ambulance surgeon from the Chambers Street Hospital, proved to be only a furrow cut in the scalp of the back of his head by Lynch's bullet. Clyde was drunk, and was locked un as well as Lynch.

At the station these two found John H. Hayes of 245 Fast 121st street, who had been badly pummeled by Lynch in his saloon earlier in the evening, and who had gone to the station to complain against the saloonkeeper. Being drunk, he had been locked un.

Lynch was held only on the charge of assault on Hayes, because no evidence could be secured against him on the accusation of assault on Hayes, because no evidence could be secured against him on the accusation of assault in the first degree with a pistol. Nobody who had been in Lynch's would tell anything about the shooting.

Even the man who was shot "didn't know." He was not sure where he lived, who he was, or which of three trades he followed for a livelihood or if he worked at all.

Lynch admitted shooting, though he would not admit that he had shot Clyde. He said he had been on a drunk for three or four days, and that he remembers taking his revolver last night and shooting at a stuffed dog in the saloon.

AN OPERA BINGER MISSING.

Being a Paristan, Perhaps Her Alsatian Busband Proved Too Trutonic for Her.

Mrs. Nellio Bautte, the newly married wife of William E. Bautte, a prosperous saloon keeper, living at 125 Greenwich avenue, has beer missing from her home since a week ago vesterday. She is a l'arisian by birth and is : singer. Before coming to this country. eighteen months ago, she travelled with an opera company and sang in the principal cities of Belgium.

When she went away it was with the intention of visiting a doctor in the French Hospital in Thirty-eighth street. She did not call at the hospital, but at So'clock in the evening she visited some friends at 316 West Sixty she visited some friends at 310 West Sixtyninth street. She left the friends' house at a quarter of it, so they say, and after that there is no trace of her.

There was no cause for her leaving her husband. Once she asked him if she could not sing in this country, but he told her thatas he had enough money to support them there was no need of it. They never had any disagreement in the two months of their married life, and she always appeared contented. In the lack of any other explanation of her disappearance her husband conjectures that, being an Alsatian, he has enough German blood in him to have caused some of her friends to persuade her that he was not a fit mate for a pure-blooded Frenchwoman.

MABEL SINL'S HOUSE PULLED. Another Young Girl from Philadelphia Found at 9 Pell Street.

Mabel Ferrett of Philadelphia sloped a year ago with Charlie Sine, a Chinese, She has been living since then at 0 Pell street. Assist-O'Donnell, Ross, and Burgers McLuckle ant Superintendent Stocking of the children's Are Charged with Murder society alleges that the house is a resort for immoral Chinamen. On Thursday night two girls were seen going into the place. They were apparently not more than 15 years old. The matter was reported to Mr. Stocking. He had been notified that two young women had disappeared from their homes in Philadelphia, and he concluded that these might be the girls. He got a search warrant yesterday from Justice McMahon, and with three of his own men and four of the court squad he raided the house. Only one of the girls was there. She called herself May Howard. Her right name is Sallie McDevent. She kept house for her three brothers in Philadelphia. She confessed that she had been visited by Chinamen. She fainted three times when she was arrested. Mrs. Sine was accused of abduction, though the McDevertt girl insists she is 10 years edd. Joseph Hargey and Lizzle Reynolds, the other two persons arrested in the house, were belied up as disorderly persons. Sallie McDevertt was turned overto the care of the society. Her brothers were notified. disappeared from their homes in Philadelphia. Joe Goddard's Waterloo

SAILED OFF WITH HER GUNS.

THE SOUTH PORTLAND CLEARED OVER VENEZUELA'S PROTEST.

Eldridge of the Catherine Whiting

Nays He Can't Start Until Noon To-day— In He Going to Chase the South Portland? If the official representatives of the Venezuelan Government now in this city, including the Minister, his son and secretary, and the Consul-General, are able to carry out their in-tentions, it is very possible that "the dogs of war" will soon be let loose. Persons owning fast yachts, and not indisposed to immediate travel, may enjoy some exciting sport by putting to sea at once and keeping within seeing distance of the South Portland, the vessel which the Venezuelan representatives insist is going to cruise against their country. The South Portland received her clearance papers yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Secretary of the Treas-ury having telegraphed to Collector Hendricks to release her. The decision was based upon the action of United States Commissioner Alexander in dismissing the complaint against the nominal owner of the South Portland, Gonzales.

At 9 o'clock last night the South Portland. with her cargo of rifles, cartridges, and a Gatling gun, left her anchorage bound for the Hook. She passed the Hook, going out, about I o'clock this morning.

The Venezuelan representatives were not so emphatic yesterday in their utterances about pursuing the South Portland, but they would not deny that work on the Catherine Whiting was being pushed so as to make her ready for sea immediately. The customs authorities said they had received no application for clearance papers for the Catherine Whiting, so that there was no official reason to believe that she would follow the South Portland immediately. The Catherine Whiting was not fully prepared yesterday, anyhow, not having shipped the arms she would need in an encounter with the South Portland. It would be possible, of course, for the Catherine Whiting to sail without clearing, but the consignors would have to reckon with the Collector in that case. A good deal of mystery attaches to the Catherine Whiting. Her alleged owner before this talk arose was W. L. Bowman of 52 South street. At that address it was said that he was rarely seen more than once in two weeks. Whether the Catherine Whiting was actually purchased by the Venezuelan Minister could not be learned, although the latter would not deny it. He was very angry at United States District Attorney Mitchell because they had not libelled the South Portland. He asked Deputy Collector Gunner to likel her yesterday, but clearance papers had already been issued and Gunner refused to interfere. The Minister had telegraphed a similar request to Washington, but had received no answer.

The Catherine Whiting lies at the foot of Twenty-sixth street, South Brooklyn. Capt. Eldridge, her commander, said last night that he had no crew and that he couldn't possibly get away before noon to day. He had received no orders. His boat is much faster than the South Portland.

The lawful object of pursuing the South Portland would be not to overhaul her on the high seas under the American flag, but to prevent the arms she carries from getting into the hands of the Venezuelan insurgents in Venezuelan territory. What a superior force might do at sea is another question.

Gulick, Minister of the Interior, and Paul Neuman, Attorney-General. l'assengers who arrived to-day from Honolulu say there is much discontent over the nex Ministry appointed by MacFarlane. On the night of the 13th a vote was taken on want of confidence and resulted in twenty-four votes against twenty-two for impeaching the Ministry. A passenger said everything on the islands is in a state of uneasiness. The people are getting tired of the laxity of the Government and the dominien of the foreign populace. He said that a petition was being quietly circulated asking Queen Victoria to place the group under British protection. The American residents will not submit to such arrangement without a fight, and will ask Uncle Sam to step in and protect their interests.

Another thing that is working up the people of Honolulu greatly is the proposition to transfer the Louislana Lottery operations to the paradise of the Pacific. While the lottery people in this country declare that they do not intend to go to the Hawaiian Islands, their agents have been buying in Honolulu, but their work seems to have gone for naught. SPY O'CONNOR DISAPPEARS.

He is Suld to Have First to Escape the Wrath of Homestend Strikers. PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21 .- Patrick O'Connor of is High street has disappeared, leaving his wife and family behind. A morning paper says that O'Connor belonged to a branch of the Clau-na-Gael, and that after having got much information regarding the Homestend strikers he turned traiter, and furnished the information on which many arrests were made of the men most active in the riot at Homes.ead. O'Connor was found out, and left town to escape being foully dealt with, as he was marked by the other members of the scelety.

as he was marked by the other members of the society.

The story was shown to Hugh O'Donnell in pail to-day. He pronounced it unfounded. He said that he had nover heard of Patrick O'Conner, nor did he know that a branch of the Clan-ma-Gael existed in Homestead.

It is admitted by those interested in the prosecution of the Homestead strikers that O'Conner did furnish information regarding the strikers, and that it was partly on his testimony that informations were made.

Prominent Pittsburgh Irishmen say that there is no lodge of Clan-ma-gael in this city or at Homestead. They say that while it is undoubtedly true that O'Conner has been doing detective work for the Carnegle Steel Company, there is no truth in the statement that a price has been placed on his head by a secret organization. They all pronounce him a man with a very bad record.

HOMESTEAD RIOTERS INDICTED.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21.-The Grand Jury today returned true bills in all the cases against Homestead men growing out of the riot there on July 6. There were six indictments handed on July 6. There were six indictments handed down, three of which were for murder, two for aggravated it 4, and one for constract. There are in all the cases an aggregate of 167 defendants although many of them are defendants in two or more of the cases.

In all of the cases cases dupon Hugh 6'Donnell, Hugh Ross, and Burgess McLuckie of Homestead are named as defendants. Several of the indicted men are officials of the Amalgated Association.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21 .- Joe Goddard, the Australian champion pugilist, met his Waterloo to-night at the Ariel Athletic Club, in the presence of 2.000 persons, at the hands of Joe Butler, a Philadelphia colored fighter. The Beggs did not weigh over the pounds, while Goddard was at least thirty pounds heavier.

GEN. BUTLER WAS ANGRY.

He Complains Breause He Couldn't Lease His Old Command at Washington. BOSTON, Sept. 21. - A special from Washing ton says that it has already been stated that Gen. Butler expected to head the Sixth Massachusetts in yesterday's parade, and that Gen Palmer decided that he must either appear with his department or else not at all. This decision chagrined Gen. Butler, and to-day h sent the following characteristic letter:

To the Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Re public.

"Dean Sin: I sought information from Gen. Filis Spear as to what position I was desired to take in the parade to-morrow morning. I having been informed unofficially that I was to take it at the head of the Sixth Massachusetts Regiment, which I had the good fortune to command as its Brigadier-General on its arrival in Washington, the first body of troops which came here for its defence. Gen. Spear informed me that I was expected to be connected with this regiment, they being my fellow citizens and the soldiers with whom I had lived and served for more than twenty years, and when the safety of Washington was assured I led them back to Baitimore to avenge the blood of their comrades, shed by an armed mob as they passed through to the defence of the capital, which was the only city containing rebellious armed troops that was captured by three months

"For that feat of arms of theirs the President first appointed me senior Major-General of the United States Army. Taking that position with my old regiment, it occurred to me that it would not interfere with the glorious achievement of any of the present officers of the Grand Army. At 1:30 o'clock this evening I received a letter from Gen. Spear informing me that Gen. Butler would as well like to ride with the department of Massachusetts. I will personally, if possible, or by aid, notify you of the time aed place, and if I like I may ride in a carriage at the head of the Department of Massachusetts, and that it is the d-sire of my friend, the commander of that department of Massachusetts and that it is the d-sire of my friend, the commander of that department, that I should do so. But I have no busines at that point, because of my early promotion. I have nover since commanded so small a department.

"There is a place which belongs to me, if the commander-in-chief will permit a carriage to take me there, at the head of B. F. Butler Post, No. 42, Massachusetts Department of the Grand Army, to which place my comrades have invited me.

"I beg leave to assure the Commander-in-Chief that there will be nothing disagreeble or uncomfortable for me in that place, for among the soldiers of the late war now alive, where McGregor sits there is the head of the table. I have the honor to be your obedient servant.

Gen. Palmer said about this letter: "I have made no answer to it. I want to say that personally I have great respect for Gen. Butler's ability, courage, and service, but officially. I could not permit him to ride anywhere else than with his department."

MEDDLING WITH HER LOVE AFFAIRS. Miss O'Nelli and Her Sweetheart Want

Protection from a Priest. CHICAGO, Sept. 21.-Miss Lizzie O'Neill of 5.206 State street has a pretty face and a charming figure. Her family came to Chicago from Cleveland in December last. Lizzie has had a most peculiar experience. According to one story she was sought in marriage by the Rev. Edward M. Hennessey, a Catholic priest. The other has it that the priest sought to bring about her marriage with a wealthy parishioner. It is said that Father Hennessey, who prepared Miss O'Neill for her first communion at Cleveland, fell in love with her. He was a frequent caller at the house. Then the family removed to Chicago, and Father Hennessey was transferred to Dungannon, O., and later was placed in charge of a church at Bubuque. Ia. One day last week the priest unexpectedly called upon the O'Neills. On last Sunday he called and waited until the girl returned from church with her afflanced. Cyril Bravo. This enraged the priest, and he attacked Bravo, and drove him from the house. On Monday Hennessey boarded a state street car, upon which Miss O'Neill and Bravo were riding. Again the priest assaulted Bravo, and the woman becoming frightened jumped from the car and was badly shaken up. Then the girl's brother called upon Archhishop Feehan for protection. A guard is on duty at the O'Neill homestead.

Edward O'Neill, a brother, has sworn out a warrant charging the ex-priest with assaulting his sister, himself, and her sweetheart. Cryil Bravo. Bubuque, Ia. One day last week the priest

Nrs. O'Noill asserts that Hennessey has been arrs. O Nelli asserts trautionnessey has been planning to marry her daughter to a wealthy man. She said to-day that in Cleveland not long ago the priest called upon her in company of a man of means, and asked her to consent to the marriage of her daughter to his friend. Mrs. O'Neill teld the man that her daughter was already engaged, and that she would not interfere with her plans.

WAS HICKMAN MURDERED?

His Watch and Money Were Missing, and There Was a Contuston on His Head. Four comrades of John Hickman, the Newark fireman whose body was found in the Potomae at Washington, D. C., on Monday, accompanied the body to Newark. These mer say that they are satisfied that their comrade was murdered. On Monday morning about o'clock he left the barracks, saying that he could not stand the racket and would go down could not stand the racket and would go down to the city. That was the last they saw of him alive. Five hours later they were called to the Morgue to identify the body. The last seen of Hickman was about 5 o'clock in the morning, when he was in the company of two negroes. The locality in which the body was found is about the worst in Washington. The man's watch and money were missing. As he intended to travel further South after the encampment he had brought about $100 with him. He was perfectly soher when he left his comrades and was not addicted to drink. There is a slight contusion on the head, which leads the Washington police to supposed that he was robbed and murdered by the negroes seen with him at 5 o'clock. Hickman was a member of Phil Sheridan Post, G. A. R., and a member of Engine Com-pany No. 2 of Newark.

TELEGRAPHERS ON STRIKE.

The Operators on the Burlington, Cedar Rupids and Northern Go Out. CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Sept. 21.-At 10 o'clock this morning every operator and despatche on the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and North ern Railway, with one exception, about 200 men, went on strike for higher wages and to secure the adjustment of their grievances secure the adjustment of their grievances. The Superintendent of the railway yesterday refused to necept the schedule presented by the Grievance Committee of the operators.

The strike was for a general increase of $10 per month for each man. When the parley between the men and the company began several weeks ago, the train despatchers did not join in the general demand, but this morning with one exception they joined the strikers. The strike involves almost all of the operators and many of the agents on the line. The agents who remained loyal to the company will keep the trains moving. In anticipation of the strike Superintendent Williams began some days ago the work of securing agents and operators, and it is thought that all places will soon be filled.

ON THE BOWERY.

They Say Such Things and They Do Such Things There.

Frank Roach, aged 19, of 10 Goerck street was held for trial on a charge of swindling by Justice Hogan in the Essex Masket Police Court yesterday. The complainant was Sal vator Sprofeta, an Italian living at 266 Mulherry street, who necessed Roach of working the pocketbook dodge on him. While walking the pockethook dodge on him. While walking along the Bowery near Houston street on Saturday night Reach took the Italian for a countryman and dropped a pockethook containing $200 in Confederate money in his path. When the Italian conflicated it, Roach threatened to tell the owner unless he made it worth his while to keep slient. The Italian offered him a $100 note taken from the pockethook, but Roach refused it, saying he could not get it change I. Sprofeta then told Roach that he had only $36.50 about him, so loach accommodatingly said he would accept that. When the $36.50 was handed over the Italian quickly found out that the money in the pocketbook was spurious, and had Roach arrested.

PRICE TWO CENTS. MIKE M'DONALD ARRESTED.

CUICAGU'S BOSS GAMBLER ACCUSED OF ATTEMPTED BRIBERY.

He is Charged with Trying to Buy for $300 a Decision from Justics Woodman in Favor of the Gardeld Park Defeadants—

He Fernishes Honds and is Released.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.-By direction of Mayor Vashburne a warrant was sworn out to-day by Assistant Corporation Counsel Dupuy before Justice Foster for the arrest of Michael McDonald on a charge of having attempted to bribe Police Justice Charles A. Woodman with $300 to render a decision favorable to the defendants in the Garfield Park Club cases. McDonald heard of the warrant at 11 o'clock, awaited its service in his office until noon, and becoming weary went in pursuit of the constable and made cer-tain that he was arrested sure enough. This procedure was decided upon last night. Washburne, annoyed at the conflicting stories told and printed regarding the alleged attempt to bribe a city magistrate, one of his appointees, felt inclined to take steps to com-pel a disclosure of the whole truth. He took counsel with his personal friends and official advisers, and they encouraged him in the idea of having the case tried on its preliminary hearing before a Justice. The mystery at-tendant on a Grand Jury investigation would be avoided. All the evidence would be heard in open court, and the defence, if any should be made, might help to settle the status of the case and put a stop to the sensational rumors and conjectures that have provailed during the last few days. Mayor Washburne denied strongly that the case involved politics, but asserted that the people were entitled to know whether an attempthad been made to bribe a city official before the long process of a Grand Jury proceeding could reach the facts. It is possible before the long process of a Grand Jury proceeding could reach the facts. It is possible that another motive that prompted the Mayor to such energetic action was a desire to get even with the Garfield Park Club people for the stories they circulated about him during the contest between the track and the police. He is reported to have said that he proposes to convince the public that the gamblers' combine has no hold on him, and can neither capille nor scare him. To prove this he causes the arrest of the head man of the Park crowd.

The story of the $50,000 bribe is said also to rankle in his Honor's memory, and McDonald's prosecution will help square old scores. Notwithstanding the Mayor's vigorous condemnation of politics in connection with the arrest of McDonald, it is probable that considerations of political exigency had something to do with it. It had been reported that Woodman's charges against McDonald were made for their probable effect on the political campaign. It was asserted that Woodman's charges of bribery against McDonald was a Republican campaign lie. Therefore it behooved the Republicans, as Woodman said, to show, if they could, that the magistrate had told the truth. So the Republican party managers advised the Mayor, it is said to force the issue by causing McDonald's arrest. They desired to show that they did not fear the result.

This latest turn in the Garfield Park muddle caused much comment. It was deemed queer that the Mayor should suddenly decide to shoulder the entire responsibility as soon as Chiel MacLaughey had got out of town. The Chief had taken all the credit for the move against the gamblers, and yet the Mayor played the coup when the Chief was away.

By many persons conversant with the facts it is thought that McDonald's enec, on hearing to-morrow morning, will result in another explosion. Mayor washburne is expected to testify, and may be asked to further explain the alleged $50,000 britile offered by Hawthorne to close Garfield Park, concerning which the Mayor testilled thre at the Instance of His Wife's Father. ALBANY, Sept. 21 .- "Lord Charles Beresford," or the clever and adroit young man who has assumed that name and title, and an account of whose forgeries and other adventures appeared in the newspapers recently, was detained at Police Headquarters this afternoon. So was a stylish and handsome young woman who was in his company. "Lord Charles," whose proper name is La Salle, married a daughter of Lilienthal, a member of the millionaire tobacco firm of New York, and when her husband was arrested in Georgia not long ago for forgery she stuck to him. His conviction was appealed from, and pending the hearing of the appeal he was admitted to bail. Lately he wrote a letter to his wife's father demanding the sum of $2,500. The father turned the letter over to his lawyers, Black, Ladd & King, as a blackmailing missive, and they opened negotiations, the result of which was a meeting between Lawyer King and "Lord Charles" in this city to-day. The young woman through whose medium the negotiations had been conducted was with "Lord Charles." Lawyer King lost no time in taking him to Folice Headquarters, where he asked Chief Willard to lock him up. The Chief informed Mr. King that the arrest was not regular, and "Lord Charles" secured the services of a lawyer. The authorities agreed to detain him until the people in Georgia could be notified.

The Young Adventurer Arrested in Albany
